ISRAEL'S CONTINUED CRIMES

«We survived the war – we may not survive the ceasefire»

Illegal Imprisonment and Torture

Nine thousand one hundred people remain imprisoned in Israeli detention facilities, most of them without charge or trial. This number is taken from a brand-new report on torture in Israeli prisons, published on November 7, 2025. It is known that children as young as twelve are being held, and there may also be children even younger. It is obvious to anyone that these children are not imprisoned under any legal process involving charges or sentencing.

Human Rights Watch has previously reported on torture of a brutality they have never witnessed before: prisoners have been subjected to electroshocks to the eyes, causing them to lose their sight. Doctors have had restraints applied so tightly to their hands that, after forty days, their hands had to be amputated. Sexual assaults with objects have been carried out with such force that the victims have died as a result. Survivors have bled from the rectum for months. Rape is also carried out by trained dogs.

Palestinian prisoners released under the ceasefire agreement have been subjected to indescribable torture. Those who remain imprisoned—entirely without any crime, charges, or sentencing—are also exposed to severe torture. Israel has arrested a large number of doctors and other medical personnel. Doctors who have done nothing but treat the wounded have been denied release under the ceasefire agreement. One example is Dr. Hussam Abu Safiya, the hero of the Kamal Adwan Hospital, who has been held in captivity since 27 December 2024.

Dr. Safiya's lawyer has stated that the doctor has not been allowed to change clothes for six months. On October 17, Israel decided to extend his imprisonment by another six months. Amnesty International and numerous other organisations are urging authorities in all countries to pressure Israel to release Dr. Safiya — and all other Palestinian detainees held without charge or trial. The inability to wash, change clothes, or access clean bedding and surroundings is a recurring issue — as are reports of those released having severe wounds all over their bodies due to untreated scabies.

Our top political leaders have never taken action to pressure Israel to release these doctors and health workers — nor any other unlawfully detained individuals.

The stories from those released under the ceasefire agreement bear witness to the fact that Israel did not lose its humanity on October 7, 2023, but many years earlier. One man from Gaza had been held in solitary confinement for years without seeing a single other person. He had been completely isolated from all human contact and had no access to news. He did not know that Gaza had been bombed for two years. When he was released as a free man, in Gaza, he was met with the shock of a destroyed homeland.

Another man returned home to Gaza only to learn that his entire family had been killed. No one remained. His whole family died in the bombardment of the refugee camp he came from. He, who had been sitting in an Israeli prison, was the only survivor.

This is not unusual. It has been documented that Israel has deliberately targeted entire families — domicide — by attacking private homes in the middle of the night. Early in the war, the term "Wounded Child, No Surviving Family (WCNSF)" emerged from Médecins Sans Frontières. They described it as a complex medical crisis involving a child who had lost their entire family and was severely injured, with no surviving relatives to care for them. After the ceasefire, the term "Released from Prison — Only Survivor" emerged. The released return home only to learn that their entire family has been wiped out.

Several of those returned deceased by Israel show signs of having died as a result of grotesque torture, such as having burn wounds across the entire body — not caused by fire.

The imprisonment of innocent people, without any wrongdoing, charges, law, or sentencing, testifies to a reign of terror beyond imagination. The only way to put it into perspective is to compare it with how we in Norway treat our inmates — who in most cases have committed crimes, are charged under the law, and sentenced. They will never leave a Norwegian prison reporting that they have been subjected to the most extreme forms of torture imaginable. Torture is one of the four most serious crimes under international law. Israel commits them every day — against thousands of innocent people, including children. Simply being imprisoned indefinitely without guilt, charge, or trial is itself a form of mental torture. The physical torture they are subjected to is in addition.

They May Now Be Executed

The latest news from the Israeli Knesset is a proposal that prisoners held in Israeli detention facilities may now also be executed. This constitutes a life-threatening situation for each of the nine thousand individuals still held in Israeli prisons. Israel has also not released the children and women it was obligated to release under the agreement.

About the Ceasefire Agreement

October 10: The ceasefire is, according to the agreement, meant to enter into force.
Ten days later: Over one hundred people have been killed by IDF since October 10. Israel has killed Palestinians in Gaza every single day since the ceasefire was supposed to take effect.

Saturday, October 18: Israel kills an entire family of eleven in an attack by a tank.
Seven children and three women from the Abu Shaaban family were killed, in addition to a male driver. Nine of the deceased have been verified by OCHA. Two of the children have not been possible to locate. The bomb attack was so powerful that their bodies were scattered over a wide area.

Norway is heavily invested in the companies that produce the engines and gearboxes for the Israeli Merkava tanks:

MTU produces the V-12 1500 hp diesel engine for the Merkava 4.

The Oil Fund's investment in MTU: 510 million dollars.

RENK produces the gearbox.

The Oil Fund's investsment in RENK: 128 millon dollars. (Appendix 9.)

Sunday, October 19: Israel bombed the city of Khan Younis and several other locations in Gaza. Benjamin Netanyahu stated in the Israeli parliament that Israel dropped 153 tonnes of bombs over Gaza on this one day. This corresponds to 153 one-ton bunker buster bombs — also called earthquake bombs (these are described in more detail in the section on RTX in Appendix 9). At least 45 people were killed in the attacks, bringing the number of deaths since October 10 to 97.

Every bomb Israel drops on defenceless civilians is a war crime. One hundred and fifty-three one-ton bombs against civilians in a city, after a ceasefire has entered into effect, constitutes 153 crimes against humanity — in a single day.

Tuesday, October 28: The deadliest day since October 10. Israel bombed throughout Gaza, killing over one hundred people — 46 of them children.

Norway is heavily invested in the bombs Israel drops on the civilian population. None of the political leaders we have filed a criminal complaint against have protested to Israel about the bombings — neither before nor after the ceasefire was supposed to take effect. There may be two reasons for this:

1. that they consider themselves prevented from protesting because they ensure that Norway profits hugely from the bombings, or

2. that they simply support/accept the bombings. Or both.

October 25: Palestinian Sara Awad from Gaza writes in Al Jazeera about Sunday, October 19, when she and her brother attempted to go out to a café, believing it was safe - since there was a ceasefire.

My brother and I were almost at the cafe when we heard a very familiar sound – the thunder of an explosion. An Israeli drone had hit the entrance of Twix Cafe.

I froze. I thought, this is it – it's my turn. I won't survive this war.

Three people were killed and several others were injured. Had my brother and I left my family's tent a few minutes earlier, we, too, may have been among the casualties.

As the news spread, my family went into panic, calling us over and over again. The signal was weak, and their attempts to reach us were failing. We were able to comfort our mum only when we got back to the tent.

I asked myself, what kind of "ceasefire" is this? I felt more anger than fear. When the ceasefire agreement came into effect and we were told by foreign leaders that the war was over, many of us dared to hope. We thought the explosions would finally stop, that we could begin to rebuild our shattered lives without fear.

But there is no such hope under Israeli occupation. The violence never truly ends. That day, when the Israeli army bombed Twix Cafe, it also bombed dozens of other places throughout the Gaza Strip, killing at least 45 people and injuring many more.

Norway is heavily invested in companies that produce components for the Israeli armed drones that kill civilians in Gaza - Appendix 9.

Other Violations of the Agreement:

Emergency aid is not being allowed in as agreed. At one point, 800 truckloads had entered when, according to the agreement, 6,000 should have.

Medical equipment is not being allowed in.

Water supply remains obstructed.

Medical personnel are not being allowed in.

Journalists are not being allowed in.

Equipment to clear the Gaza Strip, including equipment needed to locate the deceased hostages, is only partially being allowed in.

Evidence That the Genocide Continues:

Both children and adults continue to die of hunger - daily - in Gaza.
The living conditions for pregnant women, for women in labour, for injured children and adults, and for children nearing death by starvation, constitute crimes against humanity. Israel is preventing tents from entering. This amounts to a certain death sentence for thousands who will freeze to death.

Winter is approaching in Gaza, and two million people are living in more or less unusable tents. Many will, as in the two previous years, die from the cold during the winter, as tents and caravans are still not permitted entry. Warm clothing for children is not being allowed in. Winter sleeping bags that could save lives were not allowed in during the first two winters, and they are not being allowed in this third winter either. Children who are already emaciated from hunger will have even less resistance to sleeping in icy, wet tents. They will fall asleep and not wake up. Israel hindering tents from entering Gaza is premeditated murder.

Israel Continues Its War Crimes Throughout Occupied Palestine:

The Occupation:

The clearest evidence of illegal occupation is that Israel has full control over all borders, while the Palestinians have none. This applies to Gaza, East Jerusalem, and the West Bank. Israel alone decides who may enter and who may leave.

In the West Bank, Israel has built a wall that winds through Palestinian land. It was declared illegal by the ICJ in 2004. Israel determines who may move where, even inside the occupied West Bank.

Norway is heavily invested in companies that provide technology enabling Israel's control and restriction of Palestinian movement in the West Bank. (Latest evidence submission and Appendix 9.)

Israel has subjected Gaza to a complete blockade since 2007. It has since built a wall around the entire area and blocked access to the sea off the coast. Warships patrol the coastline and shoot and kill Palestinians who attempt to go out to fish. Norway is heavily invested in the companies that produce the warships that block Gazans' access to the sea and kill fishermen. We also profit significantly from the companies that produce the weapons with which these ships are armed. (Appendix 9.)

Israel continues to demolish homes in the West Bank and forcibly displace Palestinians from their homes and land. The Oil Fund is invested in several companies that manufacture the heavy machinery Israel uses for this purpose. As described in the latest evidence submission, the UN has stated that Israel has used machinery from Doosan and HD Hyundai to carry out major destruction also in Gaza since 2023. The Oil Fund is heavily invested in both Doosan and the HD Hyundai group. (Appendix 9.)

Violent settlers continue to attack and kill Palestinian civilians, with protection from Israeli military forces.

Palestinian refugees in exile, and their descendants, still are not granted permission even to visit their family members in Palestine.

The Israeli government declares to the world that it will never accept a Palestinian state, and that it will continue to build new settlements to prevent any possibility of a Palestinian state. The authorities have approved 3,400 new illegal housing units between Jerusalem and the West Bank, which will further obstruct any future Palestinian state.

Every single day that Norway continues to ensure financial profit for the Norwegian Treasury from all these crimes, is one more day in which the Labour Party leadership remains complicit.

In 1983, the UN General Assembly called on all member states to end all economic assistance to Israel, and all military support, until Israel had ended its illegal occupation.

"Point 4: Declares that all actions taken by Israel to annex the occupied Palestinian and other Arab territories and Jerusalem are illegal and in violation of previous resolutions.

9: Further condemns any political, economic, technical, military, or other support to Israel that may encourage Israel's aggressive actions and consolidate or prolong the occupation and annexation of the occupied Arab territories.

13: Again calls upon all member states to adopt the following measures:

(c) Freeze economic, financial, or technical assistance to and cooperation with Israel.

(d) End diplomatic, trade, and cultural relations with Israel."

Our top political leaders should now be required to follow that call — or receive clear instruction to do so from the legal authorities.
